Sister Alice knew she would be chosen

In 1960, when the Sisters of Charity of Seton Hill responded to the Holy Father's call for religious women and men to move into third world countries, Sister Alice Ruane heard that call in a very personal way.

Sister Alice, formerly Sister Marie Timothy, was just 30 years old when the Sisters of Charity responded to an invitation from Korean Bishop Harold Henry to send sisters to Korea. She immediately felt called and she knew she would be chosen to go.

Out of 90 sisters who volunteered for the mission, Mother Claudia and her Council chose four. Sister Alice received her letter of confirmation. She joined Sisters Mary Agnes Carey, Mary Noreen Lacey and Martin de Porres Knock on their trip across the Pacific on a cargo boat, the California Bear.

"I knew I'd be one of the people chosen as soon as I got word about the mission. I firmly believe it was the voice of the Holy Spirit that was calling," Sister Alice recalls. "I knew I would be giving up a marvelous life. It was certainly a sacrifice. I had a very happy life, but I reached the point that I knew it was what I had to do.

"I really believe that God is present with me every day," Sister Alice added. "For me, He is very personal."

The sacrifice she made came from love – a love for God, but also for her oldest sister, Libby.

Libby had experienced a divorce and had remarried. Because of this, she was not permitted to partake in the Eucharist. Her heart was filled with pain as she yearned to be close to Christ.

"Everything we do affects everyone else who is a part of the Mystical Body," Sister Alice says. "If you have a pebble in your shoe, it hurts your foot and then the whole body reacts. The same goes for the Mystical Body. My sister's pain created pain for all of us in the body. I knew I had been given a chance to help ease that pain."

Sister Alice Ruane left her comfort and journeyed to a new and strange country fully aware that she was being guided by the Holy Spirit and as an offering for her sister's suffering. Libby died in 2005. She was very happy to have been reinstated and was a weekly communicant at her parish church.

Sisters Mary Noreen Lacey, Martin de Porres Knock, Mary Agnes Carey, and Alice Ruane traveled to South Korea in 1960 on the freighter, the California Bear.

The sacrifice Sister Alice made for Libby was but one of many in the sacrificial tapestry of her life's journey.

Sister Alice's sacrifice on behalf of her sister led to her helping to found the Korean province. The province will celebrate its 50th anniversary in November. Our Korean sisters have brought the love of Christ into China and Ecuador. We honor the missionary spirit that exists in the Korean sisters, in Sister Alice and in all of the Sisters of Charity.

A Letter from Sister Vivien Linkhauer

Dear Friends,

Water plays a huge role in all of our lives. Often, we go blissfully about our daily lives without remembering to be thankful for this essential gift. We experienced a wake-up call to be grateful for the gift and for all of our friends this year. Our local fire chief monitors the water pressure available to our buildings on a regular basis. When Caritas Christi was built, it passed all of the pressure tests, but in more recent testings, this was no longer true. The domestic water pressure was sufficient, but the pressure needed in case of a fire or other disaster was not. Obviously this raised a great concern for all of us. Through working with the Westmoreland Municipal Water Authority and requesting a generous grant from the R.K. Mellon Foundation, we made great inroads in addressing the problem.

You, our friends and benefactors, did the rest! We are so grateful for your generous outpouring in amounts large and small. Every dollar was cherished! Each drop of water is precious and we need to live in that remembrance in this great land of plenty. But even more importantly, we need to recognize the love of our families and friends whose largesse is the crowning glory of our lives. You remind us of God's ongoing care and unfailing love. Thank you a thousand times over for paying off the pump project and restoring our peace of mind. May God continue to reward your generosity!

Blessings on each of you,

Vivien Linkhauer S.C.

Gift annuities mutually beneficial

Many people have heard the term 'gift annuities.' In my experience, however, few people understand how they work.

It's actually a very simple concept. A gift annuity is part gift, part annuity: the donor makes a gift to a charity, and in return gets income for life. When the donor passes away, funds remaining in the annuity account are freed for use by the charity.

For example, Mrs. Jones holds a $10,000 Certificate of Deposit paying 1.2%. She fondly remembers the Sisters who taught her while she was in high school, and would like to do something 'big' for them as a gesture of gratitude.

Rather than renew the CD, she makes a $10,000 gift to the Sisters of Charity, and signs a simple one-page contract to establish a gift annuity. At age 77, she is pleased to learn the annuity pays 6.7% a year for life. She no longer has to worry about renewing the CD or shopping for the best rate. Instead, every three months she receives a check for $167.50, a total of $670 a year, until the day God calls her home.

This arrangement gives Mrs. Jones peace of mind and more income. Equally important, she has the satisfaction of knowing that when she dies, the amount remaining in the gift annuity will be freed for use by the Sisters of Charity, who also need funds for their retirement. In this way, the gift annuity benefits both Mrs. Jones and the Sisters.

I invite you to call for a no-obligation illustration. The gift annuity is a great way to care for yourself while you care for the sisters.

The Seton Arts Camp is a ministry to the children of Fayette County. This year, 28 children took full advantage of the opportunity to attend the arts camp, which was hosted and sponsored by the Sisters of Charity of Seton Hill and held at St. Aloysius Parish Hall in Dunbar, Fayette County.

Monsignor Edward McCullough, pastor of St. Aloysius Parish, praised the program and shared with supporters his perception of the ministry. "I thank the Sisters of Charity for bringing this blessing to our children," said Monsignor McCullough.

The program provides lessons in drama, music and art for three hours each day for five days. On the fifth day, students sing songs and perform a skit. The arts camp focuses on children in grades two through seven. "This is a life-long learning experience," said Sister Brycelyn Eyler, Provincial Councilor for the Sisters of Charity of Seton Hill.

All the artistic exercises and the presentation at the end of the week were geared toward this year's theme, "Space: Past and Present." Abbey Sitko, 11, of Dunbar Township attended her second camp in three years. She found that her favorite activities included the drama class and singing songs while also learning sign language. "I like the last day because we get to show them (parents) how much we learned," Sitko said. Comparing the first day to the fifth day of camp, Sister Brycelyn said she noticed that, not only did the children improve their artistic abilities, but their self-confidence as well. She added that they're considering including eighth-grade children next year.

The Seton Arts Camp is part of the Seton Arts Service Corps, a collaborative venture of the Sisters of Charity of Seton Hill and Seton Hill University. This unique, inter-generational program, founded in 2006, offers children and adults living in under-served, inner-city communities the opportunity to transform themselves and their surroundings through the arts. The Seton Arts Service Corps seeks to teach others about the Vincentian-Setonian tradition of service to others.

"I love watching the children in such a creative environment and seeing them lose their inhibitions and hesitancy in performing music and drama and exhibiting their art work," said Sister Brycelyn. "The children grow to see themselves as artists as they learn techniques and the importance of working together to complete a production."

According to Americans for the Arts, studies show that students benefit from regular exposure to the arts. Students who participate in the arts show increased ability to communicate effectively with adults and peers and work cooperatively with others, work on tasks from start to finish, demonstrate improved academic performance and have lower drop-out rates, to name a few benefits.

Children participate in activities during arts camp.

Ministry work continues for Sisters of Charity

For over 350 years, the Sisters of Charity have been ministering to the needs of others. From the poor street beggar who had no food or shelter to the Wall Street lawyer who needed help with his education, this relatively small group of women gave up their lives to become helpers of those in need.

Their work continues.

Today...

- a blind girl is learning how to read braille
- a homeless, broken man is sleeping in a bed and has another chance at life;
- a classroom full of children with various physical and mental challenges is learning how to get along socially;
- a single mother is receiving medical attention for her child;
- a fifth-grade student is studying the sacraments;
- a University is teaching its students the core values of good character.

Though the Sisters of Charity have aged a bit, their work goes on worldwide.

Our Sisters are in need of our help. The cost of health care is high. It is now time for all of us who have been blessed by the lives of these women to bless back. By including the Sisters of Charity in your will or other planned giving options, you are insuring that their work goes on and that these wonderful women receive care. You are setting an example for the next generation; they learn that sacrificial giving is required for goodness to thrive.

Please consider supporting the work and care of the Sisters of Charity through planned giving. Contact me by email at radshade@scsch.org or call (724)691-2379 to set an appointment so I can show you how your planned gift can benefit both you and the Sisters of Charity. Together, you and I will insure that they are cared for and their work continues.

I look forward to meeting with you.
